CHAIRS

Seating is a difficult product to cover as there are so many different products and styles on the market today. The purpose of this brochure is to touch base on the most popular and versatile designs available. Many of the chairs shown have several variations, including seat and back material to seat height and color. All of these chairs are rated for public space use.

If you don't find exactly what you're looking for or envisioning, please call us! Our design team is happy to narrow down what will fit your needs and look good in your space!

Folding/Nesting

Folding and nesting chairs offer versatility, mobility and spontaneous convenience. With fabric, mesh or plastic backs, and fabric or plastic seats, style and design will fit any required durability and any space!

Multipurpose

These chairs are great for meeting rooms, makerspaces, and other spaces that serve multiple purposes. A plastic seat and back make them very cleanable, and durable for makerspaces and public meeting rooms but add a fabric seat and a mesh back and you have more comfort for a guest chair. Many of these chairs are stacking and also available as stools.

Wooden chairs offer a warmer feel in the main library or study space. Many of these chairs can have an upholstered seat and while vinyl is a great option for fabric in public spaces, most libraries choose a wood seat.

Stools

With the popularity of laptop bars, bar height counters and tall tables, stools have become another seating option in many libraries. From no back, low back, full back, plastic, wood or upholstered, we have options!

Task

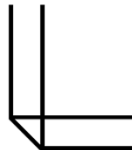

Even though task chairs stay more “back of house” and aren’t used by public, they still need to be durable, functional and comfortable. Again, many of these chairs are offered as stools and with or without arms.

School/Classroom

School and classroom seating is also something we have in our repertoire. Like the other seating categories, some of these chairs are stacking and also available as stools, with or without casters, tablet arms and other accessories.
